

Guides and Scouts in Prison

Supporting families affected by imprisonment (Scotland)

Two Mothers' Union members in Scotland initiated and lead a Guide and Scout group for children and young people visiting in prison, with both groups taking place at the prison visitor centre.

These two members have gathered together a band of 25 volunteers to make this possible.

They have a Rainbow group running each week, which is proving popular. Each week they pick a different theme, food, health, etc, and all the play is within these themes.

"We hope and pray that our actions will contribute to making the time children and families spend together a worthwhile, enriching experience"

For general guidelines about setting up and developing outreach initiatives, go to the members' section of the Mothers' Union website www.mothersunion.org